Convention.

The State Republican Convention to elect delegates to Cincinnati, met in the House of Representatives on Tuesday last, and adjourned on Thursday morning. The scenes witnessed in the Convention are not all proper to be discussed in a decent newspaper. From beginning to end a bitter fight was carried on between Chamberlain and his enemics.

Cardoza was cleaned out by Elliott, and when the Convention broke up the watery eyed Treasurer looked like a whipped house cat. Elliott accused him with having attempted to sell out the Republican party in the last campaign, and proved it by several witnesses in the Convention. Cardoza accused Elliott with having borrowed money from him, which the Speaker of the House replied to by saying, "I had to do so because I am a and well have you acquitted yourself."

Fourteen delegates were elected, consisting of H. G. Worthington, J. J. Patterson, W. J. McKinley, Dr. Winsmith, Robert Smalls, S. A. Swails, Jas. H. Rainy, R. B. Elliott, D. H. Chamberlain, A. S. Wallace, H. C. Corwin, R. H. Gleaves, W. B. Nash, L. Cain.

Augustus B. Knowlton Esq., was elected an alternate from this Congressional District.

The Convention was watched with a great dear of interest, as it was composed of two distinct fractions of the Republican party of this State.

The following, with but slight variations, will apply to some people not a thousand miles from this place, and the forcible truths expressed in the conclusion will make many a fellow think of the time he thought of a ten or twenty per cent proposition to his "creditors" on the dollar.

A business man in difficulties calls with a long face, on one of his principal creditors, and says:

"Mr. Prompt, I find, owing to the pressure of the times, I shall be obliged to call a meeting of my creditors." "Indeed," said Prompt, "then you can not meet your liabilities." Debtor-'I regret to say I cannot.'

Prompt-'Well, let me see, how long have you been in business?'

Edi or Orangeburg News and Times: It will be remembered that the Council levied, for the benefit of the Fire Department, a tax of one mill, (which will not realize more than two hundred ($200); at their last meeting they appropriated to the use of Y. A. and Comet Companies, for hose &c., about two hundred and poor man, never having robbed the fifty ($250), which will exceed the Treasury. You have had good levy by say $50. Query: Is it chances to grab from the public crib right for Council to spend the whole of the levy, and more too, to improve these two Companies, when there are other Companies representing the Fire Department, and the third as needy as the two above named?

The anti-Chinese agitation in Cali fornia is now being avowedly negineered with a view to forcing the Chinese immigration question into the approaching presidential canvass. Since the decision of the United States supreme court declaring the head money tax unconstitutional, it has dawned upon the California damagogues who would exclude cheap laborers from their state-which more than any other in the union is suffering for lack of laborers-that so long as the Burlingame treaty stands Chinese immigration cannot be obstructed, and their movement is to fetch a pressure to bear upon congress for the abrogation of that treaty, and the anti-Chinese mass meetings are held to bring this about. Their boast is that upon that issue will depend the electoral votes of California, Oregon and Nevada, and that the contest is so close these cannot be ignored. To aid in importing the Chinese question into national politics, the San Francisco Chronicle, independent republican, republishes, with high Prompi-'How much do you ex- laudatory approval, an old speech of clares that Chinese immigration Debtor-Well, I think I could should be excluded altogether. The new Methodist Church at Ninety-Six was dedicated on last Sabbath week with imposing ceremonies. Bishop Wightman preached the sermon and was assisted in the exercises by Presiding Elder Brown. The church was built mainly by the efforts of the ladies of the congregation, and is a very neat and substantial structure. The church was named St. Paul's.

Colonel James H. Rion has built a neat Kindergarten school building in Winnsboro, thirty-five by tweenty feet in size, fitted with all the modern appliances, globes, charts, &c., and improved furniture, and admirably ventilated. This he has given, rent free, for the use of the Kindergarten school, of which Miss Kate Obear is principal. _ It is pronounced a model building.

About the first week in February a son of Mr. Hogg, of Barnwell, was shot in the neck, the ball cutting the jugular vein, and brusing the caretid artery about the point where it separ. ates into the external and internal carotid arteries. This caused an aneurisin as large as a hen's egg. Three weeks after the accident, Dr. Todd, a skilful surgeon, tied the com mon carotid artery about three or four inches above the heart. No complications have yet arisen, and the operation appears to bave been a perfect success.

READING FOR FARMER'S BOYS .-An intelligent and thrifty farmer ays: "But for the co-operation of my boys I should have failed. I worked hard, and so did they. The eldest is near twenty-one, and other boys in the neighborhood, younger, have left their parents. Mine have stuck to me when I most needed their services. I attribute this result to the fact that I have tried to make home pleasant for them. I have his family a copy of these proceedings and also have them published in the Orangefurnished them with attractive and useful reading; and when the night comes, and the day's labor is ended, instead of running with other boys to the railway station and adjoining towns, they gather around the great lamp and become absorbed in their books, and papers." Such is substantially the testimony of a farmer who has known how hard the struggle for a footing on free soil without capital is, and how valuable and comparatively cheap are the aids which good reading brings to him.

A young girl about as pretty as they grow 'em, went into a Cedar Rapids music store and asked the clerk inquiringly if he had "A Heart that Loves Me Only ?" "No," he said, "but there's 'A Health to Thee, Mary." That wouldn't do, but before she turned to go she asked, "Have you 'One Sweet Kiss Before We Part ?' The Cedar Rapids clerk looked up and down the store. The book-keeper was out, the boss was upstairs trying to sell a granger a wheezy old melodeon, and so he leaned over the counter and turned out about half a dozen of the best and most artistically finished articles that the astonished young lady had ever seen offered in a job lot. She didn't say much, but she went out of the store in a step and a half and rubbed her cheeks thoroughly all the way
